MONGOL

dir. Sergei Bodrov

The first ever Kazakh movie to be nominated for Oscar, Mongol (2007) is an epic visualization of the life and deeds of none other than Genghis Khan (c. 1155-1227). A zero-to-hero biopic packed with action, adventure, and, yes, more than a bit of violence, the Sergei Bodrov-directed movie is not shy about its ambition: this larger-than-life moving canvass is here to revive the legendary Hollywood saga while telling the story precious few Westerners have heard of, let alone seen.
